Every day, in heat and cold,
I go to school, brave and bold.
I study hard the whole day through,
But take some time for games too.

I'll learn as much as I possibly can,
To grow up and be a great man.

Topic: Small Brave Ship

Moral: Differences are beautiful

There lived a small steamer in an English shipyard. He loved to study and wanted to learn new things. He learned the art of sailing. The teachers respected him for his hard work and because he asked questions about how to sail in a fovator, how to dock at a pier. He learned knowledge so well that he was trusted to transport people. He did this for many years and he liked doing the same thing day after day. One day, a large cargo steamer sailed by and began to mock him and say rude words. At first, the small steamer was scared and wanted to hide under the water. But he saw a cave and swimm inside. Wise Mollusk met him and asked what had happened. The small ship asked for help. Mollusk told him that he had been living for a long time and had met turtles who wanted to be big and crocodiles who wanted to be small, like fast fish... He gave him a moonstone so that he would remember that he was unique the way he was and he did not need to try to be different. His size and his tasks are important for the World. And what others say should not bother him, but believe in his own way is important to him

MEMORIES

I joined this school on my birthday, the 3rd of April. It was an amazing day as it marked the opening of a new chapter for me—starting a new class and getting admitted to DPS Daulatpur Junior. Everyone wished me a happy birthday, which made me feel so special, and I quickly made friends with everyone. It truly was a super special day.

The Helping Hands

The old oak tree stood tall, but its branches were heavy with snow. A small bird, shivering in the cold, looked up at the tree. "I wish I could help," he chirped.

Just then, a squirrel scurried by. "Let's work together!" he squeaked. The squirrel nibbled at the snow-laden branches, while the bird gently shook them. Soon, the snow began to fall. The oak tree sighed in relief, and the bird and squirrel, tired but happy, knew that even the smallest creatures can make a big difference when they work together.

PARENT'S CORNER

There are a lot of heartfelt memories we have with DPS Daulatpur Junior. Cozy environment, positive vibes, compassionate Incharge and teachers have made a sense of homely bonding with the school where we can share our joys and sorrow.

The latest one is from Diwali the festival of lights. Everyone is so busy and happy during Diwali time with all the small small activities which make this festival even more beautiful. We were also very occupied with Diwali celebrations when we received a message from school community to light up Diwali for underprivileged children. This thought was there in our mind for years but somehow the catalyst was missing. DPS inspired us to do something for less fortunate kids. Message was drafted so beautifully that it motivated us instantaneously. We were so occupied that at one time that I thought it won't be possible as time was running. But then when we went to burst crackers in our neighbourhood there were these 4 kids who were all looking so innocent. Aditya gave his crackers to them. Happiness on their faces was priceless. We felt so satisfied and happy to see joy on the faces of little ones. After that day we meet often and play with them. It has become an emotional bond with these kids post that day. We are very grateful to DPS Daulatpur Junior for helping us do this noble work.

Thanks ,

An Inspiring Story of My Son Rudra Tiwari (PREP SENIOR)

I am proud to share the inspiring journey of my son, Rudra Tiwari, a student of DPS Daulatpur Junior, Haridwar. Before joining the school, Rudra spoke very little and had difficulty eating his food, which made us, as parents, quite worried. However, after he enrolled in your school, we noticed many positive changes in him.

Being from a small family, Rudra had never experienced a large group of people before. At school, he was exposed to a new environment, where he learned to speak confidently, interact with others, and actively participate in various activities. We also observed that he started eating properly and became much more active than before.

Now, Rudra eagerly shares everything that happens at school with us at home. Your school has played a significant role in his growth, and we are grateful for the valuable lessons it has imparted. These changes have truly transformed his life, and we are so thankful to your school for nurturing his development.

The Little Seed's Big Journey

Once upon a time in a quiet garden, a small seed lay buried in the soil.

Surrounded by darkness, it often wondered if it would ever see the world above. "Be patient," whispered the soil. "You have everything you need to grow."

Days turned into weeks, and the little seed began to feel something stir within it. With determination, it sent out tiny roots below and a delicate shoot above. Slowly but surely, it pushed through the soil and into the sunlight.

The seed marveled at the bright world it had never seen before. The sun greeted it warmly, and the rain nourished it. Every day, the little plant grew taller and stronger. Soon, it bloomed into a beautiful flower, admired by all who passed by the garden.

The little seed learned that growth takes time and effort, but the rewards are worth it. Just like the seed, we too have the potential to grow, no matter how small we start. With patience and persistence, we can all bloom into something extraordinary.

Moral: Every big achievement begins with a small step and consistent effort.

गुरु का संदेश

ज्ञान का दीप जलाना है,
हर दिल को रोशन करना है।
अंधकार जो फैला हुआ है,
उसे उजाले से भरना है।

हर बच्चा है एक कहानी,
उसमें छिपी है अनोखी निशानी।
उनके सपनों को पंख देना,
आसमान तक उन्हें पहुंचाना।

मिट्टी में छिपा है हीरा,
बस उसे तराशना है।
कठिनाई में भी राह दिखाकर,
हर मन को सिखाना है।

मैं भी तुमसे सीखता जाऊं,
हर दिन नया कुछ पाऊं।
गुरु-शिष्य का बंधन ऐसा,
हर पल हम आगे बढ़ते जाएं।

ज्ञान का संदेश है देना,
जीवन को सफल बनाना।
जो हो सही, वही सिखाना,

PARENTS' FEEDBACK

Parent's Feedback

Dear Teacher,
I don't think you know what you've done for my Ayyukt. Maybe to you, it was just another day, just another lesson, just another word of encouragement. But to my Ayyukt, it was everything. I remember the first time I let go of his tiny hand and watched him walk into school. My heart was full of questions—will he feel safe? Will someone be there when he's scared? Will he find a hand to hold when I'm not around? And then, I saw the change. I saw a child who once hesitated, now raising his hand with confidence.

I saw eyes that once searched for reassurance now shining with curiosity. I saw a little heart that once clung to me now trusting the world a little more.

"And it's all because of this school, which has been more than just a place of learning—it has been a home, a space where my child has felt seen, valued, and nurtured. Every classroom, every corridor, every corner of this school holds stories of kindness, patience, and belief. And within these walls, my child found not just education, but a second family."

You saw my Ayyukt—not just as a student, but as a person. You noticed his little victories, his silent struggles, his unspoken fears. You lifted him when he stumbled, you celebrated him when he soared, and in moments of doubt, you became the voice that said, "I believe in you."

There was a day when he came home and whispered, "Mumma, my teacher said I am special." That night, he slept with a smile, holding onto a belief stronger than any lesson from a book.

You didn't just teach—you gave my child wings. And for that, I will never have enough words. Just a heart that will always be grateful—for you, for this school, and for the love, warmth, and unwavering support that has shaped my child's world.

Forever thankful,

RADHIKA CHANANA
AYYUKT'S MOTHER
